Students will travel across the United States of America with a weekly focus on different areas through exploration and Montessori materials.

Wander the West Coast—Have you ever stood on land that was lower than sea level? Have you been in a car that can drive through a giant tree? Join us on a trip to see where these and other fantastic things can be found in the West Coast states.

Climb the Rocky Mountains – Let's learn about grizzly bears and geysers! Wide open spaces and big sky are all around when you visit the Rocky Mountains. With such a wide variety of plants and wildlife, it's sure to be an adventure.

Search the Southwest - Who doesn't love a beautiful sunset? The southwest is where to see the best! There's a lot more going on than many people realize. From canyons to deserts to mountains, let's take a tour of our own backyard.

Plow Across the Great Plains— Who knew there were alligators in Oklahoma or that you could walk to Canada from North Dakota? The Great Plains states, also known as "America's Breadbasket," are full of unexpected surprises. Spend some time with us as we explore this vast land of plenty.

Meander the Midwest— Did you know that the world's first skyscrapers were built in Illinois? Or that Indiana has an annual popcorn festival? Or the Gateway Arch is over twice as tall as the Statue of Liberty? These are just three great things to know about America's Heartland, the Midwest. From large cities to rolling farmland and mysterious caverns, there's plenty to explore!

Saunter Through the South Atlantic— Have you ever dipped your toes in the Atlantic Ocean? From the mountains to the shores, these states are full of history and beauty. Stroll along the beaches and coastal plains with us!

Scour the South Central States— The Appalachian Mountains are the oldest mountains in North America. Come explore the misty, green landscape that runs all the way from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico. There are lots of things to see along the way!

Travel the Mid- Atlantic— Come explore five of the original 13 states in the mid-Atlantic region. From the shores of the Great Lakes to the Liberty Bell and the boardwalks of the ocean, let's take a look back through history.

Navigate New England – Even with forests covering more than four-fifths of these states, there's still room for cities and towns! The six states of New England are rich with plants, animals, and a lot of history. Let's take a walk through them together.

Adventure Across Alaska and Hawaii - The last two states to join our great nation are quite the opposites. But both are full of amazing plants, animals, and people. Let's travel together and find out what makes each of these states unique and special.

USA Sports and Games –Research sports and games played in the United States of America. Play a variety of fun games throughout the week.
